FUNDED PROJECTS

Title: The Health Lab: A Student-Staffed Clinic to Improve Health Literacy and Health Outcomes
Source: Research Grants Committee, Office of Vice President for Research and Economic Development, University of Alabama
Recipient: Nickelson, J.E., Montgomery, M., & Johnson, P.T.
Dates: 05/15/18 – 05/14/20
Amount: $34,098
Role: PI
Overview: To improve health literacy and health outcomes in medically underserved populations, we aim to teach a service-learning course for an interdisciplinary group of students that will include instruction in health literacy and engage students in the provision of a free clinic. Before seeking external funding to determine the effectiveness of such an intervention, we are requesting funds from the RGC to show success in running this program.

Title: Faculty Fellows in Service Learning Enhancement Grant
Source: Center for Ethics and Social Responsibility, University of Alabama
Recipient: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: 10/01/17 – 09/30/18
Amount: $1,500
Role/Overview: These funds are awarded to participants of the Faculty Fellows in Service Learning training program to be used for the service learning course they develop.

Title: Outstanding Faculty/Staff-Initiated Engagement Effort (The Health Lab)
Source: Council for Community-Based Partnerships, University of Alabama
Recipient: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: 10/01/17 – 09/30/18
Amount: $2,000
Role/Overview: These funds were awarded as recognition for my work with The Health Lab in the Holt community. The approved budget requested funds for reference materials, educational materials, and printing for newsletters to be disseminated to the Holt community.

Title: The Health Lab: An Experiment in Engaged Scholarship for Community-Based Health Promotion
Source: Center for Community Based Partnerships, Community Affairs, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: 04/17/15 – 08/15/16
Amount: $4,980
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The primary purpose of this project was to create a community-led Health Promotion Research Center (The Health Lab) in Holt, Alabama, as a model that can be replicated in other communities. The term Health Lab represents a concept (community-engaged scholarship), entity (the collaboration between university and community partners), and a physical space. The Health Lab will provide opportunities for students, faculty, and community members to work together in health promotion research, teaching, and service.

Title: Investigating Food Insecurity among African American Older Adults in Alabama and Exploring Strategies to Address this Problem
Source: Research Grants Committee, University of Alabama
PI: Paschal, A.M.
Dates: 05/2014 – 08/2015
Amount: $5,610 ($660 for my role)
Role: UA Faculty Consultant/Community Nutrition Expert
Overview: The purpose of this project is to increase understanding of the scope of food insecurity and related issues in the African American population and to obtain information to help design culturally-appropriate interventions.

Title: Measuring the Built Environment in a Low-Income African-American Community
Source: Research Grants Committee, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: 04/06/09 – 08/15/12
Amount: $5,000
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: This proposal resulted in a published systematic literature review of neighborhood audit tools and a grant proposal for external funds for a project that would have resulted in an instrument that would help low-income African-American communities assess the environment that influences obesity-related behaviors.

Title: Exploration of Sweetened Beverage Consumption among Infants and Toddlers
Source: Dean's Office, College of Human Environmental Sciences, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: 08/17/09 – 01/31/12
Amount: $6,950
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this project was to examine parental factors associated with sweetened beverage consumption among infants, toddlers, and preschoolers.

Title: Communities Putting Prevention to Work: State Supplemental Funding for Healthy Communities, Tobacco Control, Diabetes Prevention and Control, and Behavior Risk Factor Surveillance System
Source: CDC-RFA-DP09-90101ARRA09 (to Alabama Department of Public Health)
PI: Miriam Gaines, Alabama Department of Public Health
Dates: 02/05/10 - 01/31/12
Amount: $10,000
Role: Co-Contractor (with Dr. Linda Knol)
Overview: Contracted services on this project included the evaluation of a vending machine policy piloted by the Alabama Department of Public Health.

Title: 2010 Active & Collaborative Learning Grant
Source: Active and Collaborative Learning Grant, Office of Institutional Effectiveness, Division of Academic Affairs
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 08/23/10 (funded)
Amount: $750
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this proposal was to describe a course-embedded active and collaborative learning assessment measure.

Title: Grading Rubric for HHE 667 (Organization and Implementation of Health Education and Promotion Programs)
Source: Active and Collaborative Learning Grant, Office of Institutional Effectiveness, Division of Academic Affairs, University of Alabama.
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: 02/17/09 - 08/25/09
Amount: $1,000
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this proposal was to create and share a grading rubric developed for HHE 667. (Funded 02/17/09 at $750; additional $250 awarded 08/25/09 for having abstract accepted at the APHA conference).

Title: The Built Environment Assessment Training (BEAT) Institute, June 21-26
Source: Mary A Crenshaw Endowed Research Fund, College of Human Environmental Sciences, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: 03/01/09 - 06/26/09
Amount: $1,886
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this proposal was to provide investigator training in built environment assessment.

UNFUNDED PROJECTS

Title: Concept Paper: Community-based Participatory Approach for Promoting Policy, System, or Environmental Strategies to Minimize Sugar-Sweetened Beverage Intake
Source: Robert Wood Johnson Foundation
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 10/02/19
Amount: $300,000
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this project was to develop a marketing plan to address policy, system, or environmental (PSE) strategies aimed to discourage sugar-sweetened beverage (SSB) consumption among low-income children (0-5 years' old) in Alabama's Black Belt region.

Title: Graduate Fellowship for Capitalizing on Community Strengths: Providing a Voice to Youth in an Underserved Community
Source: Center for Community Based Partnerships, Community Affairs, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 02/15/17
Amount: Amount requested will fund a graduate fellowship (~$25,000-40,000)
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: This project aimed to identify and highlight the assets of the Holt community using photovoice, a participatory data collection method employing photography to provide visual depictions of phenomena from community members' perspectives, guided by principles of Positive Youth Development and the Asset-Based Community Development approach.

Title: Assessment of Community Exposure to Inorganic Environmental Contaminants
Source: Center for Community Based Partnerships, Community Affairs, University of Alabama
PI: Findlay, R.H.
Dates: Submitted 02/29/16
Amount: $4,900
Role: Co-PI
Overview: The requested funds would have allowed the university/community partners to conduct a critical assessment of the community exposure to inorganic environmental contaminants and would have either allayed community fears or allowed The Health Lab to aggressively pursue mitigation strategies.

Title: Graduate Fellowship for The Health Lab: An Experiment in Engaged Scholarship for Community-Based Health Promotion
Source: Center for Community Based Partnerships, Community Affairs, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 02/29/16
Amount: Amount requested will fund a graduate fellowship (~$25,000-40,000)
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: Under Dr. Nickelson's direction, the fellow would have overseen the Health Lab project and service learning class. She would have collected and analyzed needs assessment data, evaluate the project, co-author abstracts and manuscripts, and write grant proposals—all jointly with Health Lab participants. She would have nurtured relationships within Holt, the university, and in Tuscaloosa.

Title: Graduate Fellowship for The Health Lab: An Experiment in Engaged Scholarship for Community-Based Health Promotion
Source: Center for Community Based Partnerships, Community Affairs, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 03/13/15
Amount: Amount requested would have funded a graduate fellowship (~$25,000-40,000)
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The CCBP fellow would have supported the Health Lab project, overseeing the new community-based participatory research (CBPR) class and community projects and nurturing relationships with Holt and other communities.

Title: Food Insecurity among Older African Americans in Alabama
Source: University of Alabama-Birmingham Minority Health and Health Disparities Research Center and the Resource Center for Minority Aging Research (RCMAR)
PI: Paschal, A.M.
Dates: Submitted 2014
Amount: $2,500 (for my role only)
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
Overview: The purpose of this study was to partner with churches with predominantly African American congregations to examine food insecurity among older African Americans and obtain information that will be used to develop a culturally effective intervention.

Title: Providing Alabama Residents Tools for Nurturing Empowered Relationships (PARTNER)
Source: Project UNITED, NIH-funded program,
PI: Nickelson, J.E., Prohaska, A., Walton, Jr., G. (co-investigators)
Dates: Submitted 06/01/14
Amount: $50,000
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
Overview: The purpose of this proposal was to create a community coalition who would have undergone a community-based participatory research (CBPR) process to assess Greene County's obesity-related strengths and needs and to create and begin to implement a Community Action Plan to tack obesity in Greene County.

Title: Messages for Expectant Mothers (MEMO): A Text Messaging Intervention to Promote Breastfeeding Intentions
Source: National Institutes of Health, National Institute of Child Health and Human Development
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 02/18/14
Amount: $250,000
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The aims of the MEMO project were to (1) develop theory-based educational breastfeeding messages and pretest them with expectant and existing mothers and (2) design and pilot test an automated text messaging intervention to be disseminated by prenatal care providers, with booster messages to be sent by pediatricians.

Title: Health Action Partnership of Walker County Pop-Up Grant
Source: Center for Community Based Partnerships, Seed Funds, University of Alabama
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 4/5/13
Amount: $5,000
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The proposed project involved partnering with the Health Action Partnership of Walker County to support a series of 'Pop-up' events (temporary actions that inspire permanent change). The events would have highlighted critical areas identified by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for addressing obesity within our communities. The seed funding would have allowed us to build recognition of obesity from within the community and form the partnerships required for the community to organize to address its own local problem of obesity.

Title: Exploration of a Healthier Parental Approach to Feeding Using the Theory of Planned Behavior
Source: Allen Foundation
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 12/31/12
Amount: $75,873
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: This study would have sought to discover whether mothers plan before their child's birth to adopt a healthier parental approach to feeding (intentions) and if intentions are associated with the actual parental approach to feeding.

Title: University of Alabama's CATCH-Early Childhood (UA's CEC) Feasibility Study
Source: General Mills Champions for Healthy Kids
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 12/03/12
Amount: $9,985
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this project was to study the feasibility of having health education/promotion students deliver CATCH-Early Childhood (CEC), an evidence based health curriculum, in preschool settings.

Title: Environmental and Policy Assessment of Rural Communities (EPARC)
Source: National Institutes of Health, NIDDK, R-15
PI: Nickelson, J.E.
Dates: Submitted 10/13/11
Amount: $300,000
Role: Principal Investigator
Overview: The proposed study involved a community-based participatory action research (CBPAR) process to provide rural communities with a tool to assess local obesity-related environmental and policy issues so they may address these issues from within. This process would help empower rural communities to address rural health disparities in obesity at the local level, and would build awareness of the importance of local environments and policies to health.

Title: University of Alabama/Alabama Breastfeeding Committee Partnership for Infant Health
Source: University of Alabama, Center for Community Based Partnerships, Seed Funds
PI: Nickelson, J., & *Mitchell, Q.
Dates: Submitted 09/17/10
Amount: $4,965
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this proposal was to form a collaborative partnership with the Alabama Breastfeeding Committee to help increase their capacity to achieve their goals to improve the encouragement of breastfeeding by prenatal care providers.

Title: Social Marketing Workshop for Tobacco Prevention Campaign
Source: American College Health Foundation
PI: Nickelson, J., Wilcox, D., & *Baller, S.
Dates: Submitted 03/26/10
Amount: $2,500
Role: Co-Principal Investigator
Overview: The aim of this proposal was to train a university committee in the principles of social marketing so the committee could later create, implement, and evaluate a smoking prevention campaign for University of Alabama students.

PROPOSALS UNDER REVIEW

Title: Pursuing Environmental Justice through Public Participation: A Community-based Air Quality Assessment to Identify Industrial Air Toxics and their Health Risks

Source: Environmental Protection Agency, Environmental Justice Small Grants Program, Funding #EPA-OP-OEJ-10-01

PI: Gasp, Inc.

Dates: Submitted 03/08/19

Amount: $1,000 for my role ($30,000 total award)

Role: Consultant

Overview: The goals of this project are to 1) monitor and analyze the levels and chemical compounds of air toxics that are emitted from several industrial sources in Holt and Tuscaloosa, AL, 2) encourage self-reporting of poor air quality incidences from the community residents, 3) identify potential sources of air toxics, 4) assess their health risks, and 5) raise public awareness of air pollution and air toxics through outreach and education. This project seeks to engage in citizen science activities such as conducting air pollutant measurements and collecting air samples. The findings and public engagement will suggest potential solutions to resolve the problem, and ultimately the project will bring health and welfare benefits to the underserved community in Holt and Tuscaloosa.

TEACHING

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA

HHE 485/496-009/596-008 – Service Learning in Health Education/Promotion: The purpose of this course is to give students the opportunity to provide small group health education in a local community setting based on a health need identified by community members. The didactic component of the course involves an introduction to service learning; an in-depth review of the pathophysiology, prevention, and treatment of one illness the community determines it wants to address (e.g. diabetes, hypertension, etc.); and an overview of health education principles, theory, and strategies. This course exposes students to various genetic, behavioral, and social determinants of health.

HHE 467 – Design and Evaluation of Health Promotion Programs: HHE 467 is an upper-division undergraduate course for Health Studies majors. This course uses class work and home work activities to supplement lecture and help students apply the material learned in class. The main project for this course requires students to collect and analyze needs assessment data and make recommendations for a health promotion program on campus. This course has been recognized as one of the most important courses students take to prepare them for the Certified Health Education Specialist examination.
